To Whom it may Concern:

I am the Campus Minister at Nouvel Catholic Central High School and I also teach Theology to the upperclassmen. I have known Christian Zamora for four years. Christian is a good student and a reliable young man who has many natural leadership abilities. Mr. Zamora is a diligent scholar and is a willing contributor in my Catholic Theology classes who asks deep questions about matters of the faith.

Mr. Zamora is a confident young man who is always eager to learn about new ideas and engage in fruitful dialogue. Christian regularly steps up to serve. Mr. Zamora has worked many Lenten fish fries for his school athletics association and has enjoyed training others in this task as well. Christian taught a women's self defense class and he especially likes to stay involved in local Mexican community events. To date he has earned over 75 hours serving others over the last four years.

Mr. Zamora is a dedicated athlete who is especially fond of playing hockey. Christian took an elective class with me titled Christian Leadership, and he was a wonderful asset helping to plan retreats, set up for liturgies, and lift up the morale of his fellow students. Christian has a big heart and is no stranger to helping others. He is one of those students I know I can rely on to lend a hand when it is needed.

Mr. Zamora is curious about items of faith, a good friend to others, and is a generally well-rounded young man. Christian is a capable scholar who greets others with a polite smile and does not shy away from leadership opportunities. I am confident that Mr. Zamora will excel in academia at his university of choice and wherever he goes on to work and serve in the future. I recommend Christian Zamora for your program.

Sincerely,

Bridget C. Jacqmain,
