To Whom it May Concern:

I am the Campus Minister, Service Coordinator, and upper-level Theology instructor at Nouvel Catholic Central High School. I have known Colette McConnell for four years. Colette McConnell is a student who takes her schoolwork, her service work, and her faith seriously. Academically she is exactly where she needs to be. Colette is always a step ahead of the curve in preparedness for class and the quality of her work is excellent. Colette does not hesitate to contribute to class discussions, even when the subject matter is difficult or controversial. She has repeatedly earned academic honors and her transcript proves she has challenged herself in many honors-level and advanced placement courses in her highschool career. Colette is an asset to the classroom and I have no doubt her skills will only be refined through more time and experience in higher academia.

Colette McConnell is very dedicated to growing in the knowledge and practice of her faith. She does not shy away from asking difficult philosophical and theological questions and she enjoys pondering deep truths. Ms. McConnell works well with her teachers, her peers, with younger children, and with community members. Colette is reverent at school liturgies, she is active at her Parish, and she attended the National Catholic Youth Conference this Fall which was an enriching experience.

I serve as the faculty advisor for the Protect Life Club on campus and Ms. McConnell is the president of this student organization/ Pro-life work is a cause so close to her heart. Just this Fall, she has organized and led meetings, attended a field trip to see a keynote speaker at a neighboring high school, and represented the organization at a community fundraising banquet. Colette has a huge heart for justice, especially when it comes to serving the vulnerable, like the unborn. Colette has already logged over 450 service hours in her high school career. Our service requirement is only 100 hours so her efforts have far exceeded expectations. The fact that Colette is successful in all of her endeavors and keeps a positive outlook and attitude day after day is a testament to the dedication she has to her prayer life and to maintaining excellent organization and time-management practices. I highly recommend her for your program without reservation.

Respectfully,

Bridget Jacqmain
